

Bowling for BunniesTM

Someone's going to score tonight!

Young men put their balls on the (foul) line as they compete for a dream date with a Playboy bunny. All minds are in the gutter for a shot at life in the fast lane with some of the America's most beautiful women.

But far from an ordinary bowling competition, Bowling for Bunnies has its own special rules that spare no one and strike fear in every male bowler.

Bunnies will line the alleys, hang over the pins and get up in the faces of competitors as these buxom beauties try their best to distract the bowlers. Specially marked pins, emblazoned with prizes, cash amounts, penalties and the letters of the Bunnies' first names will form the foundation for the scoring system.

Each week, the audience also will be treated to the backstories of the competitors and the Bunnies.

Some of the penalties include:

- Bunny spanking gauntlet
- Blind-folded ball grab
- Precision Pin Resetting without Use of Hands
- And much more!

It's a seven-frame game that's sure to titillate, excite and amuse both the audience and participants.
