

The Pick-Up Game

A raucous, exciting cross-country race to pick-up as many beautiful women as possible

Teams of young men travel across the country in a race to pick-up as many beautiful women as they can. Points will be assigned for each pick-up according to the beauty – or lack thereof – of the girl. Points will range from one (ugliest) to ten (a hottie), as judged by a nationwide audience. The lowest point-getter each week will be thrown off the show. Pick-up spots will include bars, parks, supermarkets, department stores, banks, post offices and anywhere and everywhere women frequent.

It's a no-holds barred, testosterone-fueled race to pick-up as many of America's most beautiful women as possible.

The Pick-Up Game will leave a trail of slapped faces, deflated egos, unforgivable betrayals, glorious victories and the hottest women in America.
